It may make somebody mad if we menace Madrid.

Why not feed the starving Cubans before we march against Spain?

Commodore Watson, who is to go to Spain, is like most great men, a Kentuckian.

The "Rough Riders" haven't yet had a chance to ride any, but they have been having a rough time to start with.

Hamilton Fish, Jr., was the only son of his parents, and would have inherited an immense fortune. He died like a soldier in the front rank at Sevilla.

The nomination of Henry Allen for Congress assures the Second district an able, upright and patriotic representative. He will reflect credit upon the State he represents and serve his party with loyalty and fidelity.

Port Said, where Camara was last reported to be, is a town of 8,500 people at the Egyptian end of the Suez canal. It is the place where the tolls are paid and as it will take $95,000 to get his fleet through, Camara is not liable to enter the canal unless he means business.

Mrs. W. B. Lowe, the newly elected President of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, is a resident of Atlanta, Ga. She is one of the most highly cultured and intellectual, as well as widely known women of the South.

The August Ladies' Home Journal will be made up almost entirely of fiction. There are promised seven or eight short stories, in addition to Julia Magruder's serial, "A Heaven-Kissing Hill," which is brought to its conclusion in August. Julian Hawthorne, John Kendrick Bangs, Abbe Carter Goodloe, Clara Morris, Sewell Ford and others have contributed their best short stories, which are to be illustrated by the most popular American artists.

Attorney-General W. C. Fitz, of Alabama, has rendered a decision declaring vacant the seat of Representative Joseph H. Wheeler, to Congress from the Eighth Alabama district, because Gen. Wheeler has absented himself from Washington and accepted a commission as major-general in the army, being at present with Gen. Shafter's command in Cuba. Gen. Wheeler did not resign his Congressional office before going in the war. Governor Johnston admits that the Attorney-General has rendered a decision, and said he would take the matter up in a few days. He did not state what course he would pursue, but it is understood that he will, about July 1, issue a call for a special election, to be held on the same day as the State election, the last Monday in August. It is almost certain that Judge William Richards, of Huntsville, who has several times unsuccessfully opposed Gen. Wheeler for nomination, will be elected.

A Manila dispatch of Monday says: "Germany's entire Asiatic fleet is gathering here. The Kaiserin Augusta, the Kaiser, the Prinzess Wilhelm, the Cormoran and the Irene have already arrived and the Deutschland and the Gefion are expected soon. These represent the entire German fleet on the China station, with the exception of the Arcona. The transport Darmstadt will arrive to-day with relief crews for the German ships. The Germans on their arrival fired salutes in honor of the Spanish port. This is something which neither the English nor the French commanders have done. The object of the demonstration is unknown. It is not surprising that the Spaniards find hope in the attitude of the Germans. Two English warships, the Immortalite and the Bonaventure; two French warships, the Pascal and the Bruix, and one Japanese warship are also here."

A six months' cruise will decrease the speed of a ship 15 per cent. This is owing to the barnacles that become attached to a ship's hull.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

The extension of American away may in the end leave us way-back- ed.

The proposed billion navy would be great, but it would make taxpayers billions.

The Spanish soldier, once the terror of the world, is to-day a mere bush-whacker.

The city pigeon is no more a dove of peace among neighbors than is the city chicken.

Because the Spaniards have called us pigs it is not necessary that we go hogging.

The imperial policy will necessitate a new United States bond mill with improved machinery.

Mathematics are not necessary in figuring upon how much we should increase the city's already burdensome debt.

The comic papers have missed a great opportunity by not getting together all the Spanish accounts of the fighting.

There are plums for somebody in the Charter amendments, and there is a great deal of bitter fruit for taxpayers.

The thieves who carry off hot stores are less depraved than those who make no bones of breaking into shows to steal ossified men.

Frances Willard thought that the woman who had husband, children and home should be the happiest of all. But these have Mrs. Lease, who finds her happiness on the platform. And there are others.

The mule that stampeded with the Hotchkiss gun when the Spanish guerillas were shooting down our rough riders could not have been a Missouri animal. It was doubtless some raw recruit from Texas.

The little "sawed off" man has a large advantage over the tall, broad man in modern warfare. He can shoot as straight as the heaviest giant, while exposing to the enemy a much smaller figure than the big fellow.

The German woman is not so domestic as to prevent the formation of a woman's club in Berlin, and it is believed that the German as well as the rest of mankind must eventually get out of the way of the progressive woman.

A New York policeman desisted from arresting a woman when he found that the man she was thrashing was her husband. It is important that there should be domestic discipline everywhere, and the fact is readily recognized by competent officers of the law.

The transformation of the Countess Castellane into a beautiful red-headed Titian Parisian, described in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, interested every lady reader of newspapers. It is not long since an American feminine platform lecturer denounced in unmeasured terms the process of transforming plain women into artificial beauties.

There is so much information about the effects of alcohol on the human system and so many awful examples constantly on exhibition, that it is not surprising when a majority of Belleville parents object to giving their children's school time to the new study. Intemperance evils are advertised so conspicuously that no young person need go lacking in knowledge of the subject.

It is said to be a Cherokee name, signifying "the river of death," and according to a legend which has floated down among the Indians, the stream received its name from the accidental drowning of the people of a village by a sudden rise attributed to a cloudburst. Chickaminy is another name of similar character, the Indian word signifying "turkey lick," or a place where turkeys are wont to assemble. Chicopee the name of a town in Massachusetts, signifies "the place of birch bark."

Jewish guides in Rome never pass under the Arch of Titus, but walk around it. The reason is it commemorates a victory over their race.

FACTS About Powder

The California powder mills in the San Lorenzo Valley ship 20,000 pounds of powder daily to the Atlantic coast for Government use.

The principal smokeless powders in use are composed of gun cotton and nitro glycerine, either alone or in combination with other material, the function of which is to reduce the violence of action. The parts are mixed in the presence of a liquid which has a solvent action upon the gun cotton. A dough-like substance is the result. This mass is placed in a press from which it emerges squeezed into flat ribbons. After running it between rollers to obtain the proper thickness it is cut into grains and dried.

The Oregon's 13 inch rifles are charged with 550 pounds of powder and this imparts to a 1100-pound shot a velocity of 2100 feet per second and the energy of the projectile is nearly 24,000 foot tons. This energy is sufficient to lift the Oregon eight feet out of the water in one minute.

Snakes In Their Bed

On last Thursday night Joe and John Devers, who live near town, had been from home until rather late, and after reaching home they soon retired for the night. Both were soon sleeping soundly, when Joe was rudely awakened by a bite on one of his fingers. On discovering a snake had hold of him he gave a yell and a bound, lighting on the opposite side of the room. He was soon followed by John, who was yelling an old-time Indian war-whoop, with two other snakes at his heels. All this time Joe was desperately fighting his antagonist, which held on tenaciously to his finger. It had coiled itself about his arm and it was some time before it loosened its grip and escaped through the doorway. The boys at once went in search of a doctor, and upon being told that the bite was not poisonous, they returned home, and to their horror found the reptiles again coiled up in their bed. They gave battle and succeeded in killing one, a large black spotted snake. The others made their escape. And the boys they sought refuge in a neighboring house for the remainder of the night.—Ex.

The curfew law obtains in Seoul, Korea, but it is made applicable to men only. When the huge bell of the city proclaims the hour of sunset and the time of closing the gates every man is obliged to retire to his home under pain of flogging but the women are allowed to go about at all hours.

The Rev. Kennedy, while preaching in a church in Hannibal, Mo. impressively asked: "Who can portray the condition of a lost soul? An awful silence succeeded his question, but presently the husky voice of a tamale man in the street startled the congregation with the response "Hot! Red Hot!"
